GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp required thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whose use it is made may stamp it before it is used; but in no case can it be legally used without a stamp; and if issued after the 30th of June, 1864, and used without a stamp, it cannot be afterwards effectually stamped. Any failure upon the part of the maker of an instrument to appropriately stamp it renders him liable to a penalty of two hundred dollars.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than writ, viz: summons, warrant, publication, petition, &c., in which cases these, as the original processes, severally require stamps.

Writs of reire facias are subject to stamp duty as original processes

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a Justice of the Peace, Notary Public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits or legal proceedings

Certificates of loan, in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand, or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "Promissory Notes."

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same stamp duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say, for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof of the amount secured by the mortgage at the time of its assignment, there must be fixed a stamp or stamps denoting a duty of fifty cents

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law may be affixed and canceled by any one of the parties.

In conveyances of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required; and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them In such case, a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.

Report of the Reconstruction Committee.

The Congress of the United States has been in session five months, during which period its Committee of Reconstruction has been, professedly, considering the best method of restoring States, which, according to the admission of the Executive and Judicial departments of the Government, have never been out of the Union. This Committee has at length reported its programme of Reconstruction in the form of Constitutional amendments and bills for the action of Congress, which we insert to-day, and to which we invite the special attention of our readers.

The report of the Committee proceeds upon the vicious and inadmissible idea, that the States lately in rebellion effected and made good their ordinances of secession by their revolt, and that they are consequently out of the Union, beyond the pale of the Constitution, it, indeed, they admit that such an instrument is now in force at all. It proposes a radical change in the organism of the government, denuding the States of the rights hitherto admitted by all parties as guaranteed to them by the Constitution or inherent and reserved by them. It discards wholly the interpretations and positions of President Lincoln, the action of his administration and those of President Johnson, and ignores the platforms and declarations of the Republican party with which the Committee and Radical faction profess to act. The entire programme is an afterthought, violating all the pledges of the party in power to the advocates and friends of the Union.

The first section proposed to be inserted in the Constitution is unnecessary, being provided for by the powers already granted to Congress, and fully met by the laws already in existence in the Southern States, except in so far as it contemplates a radical departure from the organic character of the government. The same may be said, to some extent, of the second article proposed.

The third section enacts ex parte an entirely new rule of franchise unknown to the government, violative of the rights of the States, and is directly at war with the solemn powers of the Executive in the exercise of the rights of pardon. It nullifies all the right of amnesty and pardon heretofore exercised by the Executive, and sets at defiance the reconstruction scheme of President Johnson. The fourth is unnecessary also.

The Southern people have, with astonishing unanimity, accepted the terms of reconciliation and perpetual Union, laid down by President Johnson, although they were inimical to their future prospects of peace and prosperity. They have acquiesced in the total abolition of slavery, and the repudiation of the war debt of the States, reducing them, as a people, to the most abject poverty. They have acquiesced in conferring upon the negro all civil rights necessary to the maintenance of his liberty and future well-being, and have pledged unwavering fidelity to the Government. The President demanded what he felt bound to require, as a means of indemnity for the peace and preservation of the Union in all future time. He generously asks no more. But the Congress has nursed and inflamed its wrath by every possible means, and now demands, what the Southern people can never voluntarily yield, the most radical changes in the organic character of the Government, the obliteration of political and social distinctions between the white and black races, and the perpetual disfranchisement of many of their best fellow citizens, who implore the clemency of the Government for alleged political offences, but who find no place of repentance in the bosoms of Radical factionists and fanatics, "though they seek it carefully with tears."

The programme of the Committee of Reconstruction is, what we were prepared to expect, a monstrous scheme of utter degradation and ruin to the South, without any mixture of charity or humanity. If this monstrous scheme is adopted, it must be without the support of any State of the South or of the conservative people of the North.

PEACE.—In a recent letter of General Francis P. Blair, he makes the following just and truthful remarks: "Peace means pardon, amnesty, reconciliation; without these we can have no peace. I believe that those who have done and suffered most to secure peace by destroying the power which took arms against it are those who are now most ready to suffer and do to maintain it. Those who have suffered nothing and done nothing, but who, on the contrary, have made the war an occasion for profit and a vehicle for personal advancement—these are the greatest and only obstacles to the perfect restoration and maintenance of peace. They, having filled their pockets and secured the best places, talk most of "compensation for the past and security for the future."

RIOT IN FALMOUTH, VA.—A terrible riot occurred in Falmouth, Stafford Co., Va., on the 20th. ult., between the whites and negroes.—Fifteen negroes were killed outright and a number wounded. One white man was mortally wounded, and others slightly. The affair created the most intense excitement, but, at latest accounts, order was partially restored.

Conservatism at the North.

We regret that our space is so circumscribed, that we cannot present our readers with a full sketch of the proceedings of an immense mass meeting of the citizens of Brooklyn, New York, in favor of the restoration policy of President Johnson, and of the immediate admission of the Representatives of all the States to the Congress of the United States, held on Wednesday last. The speeches made, letters read, and resolutions adopted, on the occasion, evince a boldness of utterance and a determination against the aims of the dominant party that justify the most hopeful auguries for the future.

The two extracts which we give below—the first from the speech of Gen. Rousseau and the second from a letter of Gen. Dix,—will give some insight into the views and sentiments that prevailed, and demonstrates, what we have often said, that, if the work of reconstruction could be committed to the hands of those who fought the battles on either side, it would be speedily and satisfactorily accomplished:

"That there will be, for a long time to come, much hostile feeling at the South, must be expected as a necessary consequence of the war. But it is in the power of each house of Congress to refuse to receive as representatives, persons who are not loyal to the Union, and thus to exclude from all participation in the enactment of laws those who would be disposed to pervert the legislation of the country to its injury. The right course is very clear to my own judgment. It seems to me to be utterly incompatible with the principles of our political organization to exercise in peace a control over the affairs of any State which is not represented in the legislative body. The existing condition of things is anomalous, and should, for the general good, be terminated as speedily as possible. Whatever inconveniences may result from the prompt admission of the Southern representatives, I can find none so prejudicial in their influence as the example, under a representative system like ours, of denying to one-fourth of the people of the country a voice in their own Government."

* * * * * * * *

"And I care not what party you hitherto belonged to, come up now and aid Andrew Johnson in this contest in which he is engaged, and it will be taken care of, and you will have the peace, and harmony, and prosperity you had before the war. You will have an united people, as it was stated in a resolution, distinct like the waves, but one like the sea. For one, I pray for that. During the whole war I had but one thought and object. I was willing to sacrifice everything I had, and I have staked my life and all for it; and now to be told that it was all in vain, and will amount to nothing!"

The resolutions adopted were adjusted to the two avowed objects of the meeting,—the support of the President and the admission of the Southern representatives. One resolution declares, "irrespective of the past, all men to be now loyal who are in earnest in their efforts to bring the States together;" and "all men to be disloyal who, under any pretext, stand in the way of this consummation." This is the truth in a nut-shell. At the present day, the only disloyalists we have within our wide domain, are the Jacobins in Congress, and those who sympathize with them outside.

We have hopes that these meetings at the North will exert a powerful influence in opening the eyes of the people to the dishonesty and recklessness of the Radical leaders. If we are not very much mistaken, the recent monstrous propositions of the Star Chamber Committee will intensify the disgust and hostility that are already beginning to show themselves towards these men and their iniquitous schemes and aims. It is impossible that they can, for a moment, find approval or lodgment with the great masses, who are, generally, neither vindictive nor blind. It will disappoint us, therefore, if the foul blow aimed at the South does not recoil upon the heads of the authors, forever to crush and destroy them. Should we be mistaken, then, indeed, will reason have fled to brutish beasts, and our form of government will have become a mockery and a shame.

State Convention.

This body convenes according to adjournment on the fourth Thursday of the present month. Our cotemporary, the Charlotte Democrat, incorrectly puts the time on the 1st of May. The Democrat cannot think of any particular business for the Convention to transact, having done what it was authorized to do, and expresses the hope that it will meet and adjourn at an early day. If that body confines its action to the specific purposes for which it was called, it will certainly find but little to do at its approaching session.

AT A FINAL MEETING, the lady managers of the Southern Relief Fair have decided to appropriate the following sums among the States named: Virginia, $20,000; Mississippi, $15,000; Alabama, 10,000; South Carolina, $15,000; North Carolina, $10,000; Georgia, $10,000; Tennessee, $6,000; Louisiana, $6,000 Arkansas, $4,000; Florida, $4,000; and to refugees in Maryland and Virginia, $8,000-making in all $108,000. After making these appropriations the lady managers have still on hand about $50,000, which will be distributed among the above named States, or held for the relief of special cases of distress.

RICHMOND ENQUIRER AND SENTINEL.—We are glad to see that this excellent Daily has resumed its publication under the control of Messrs. R. M. Smith & Son, Mr. Coleman having withdrawn. It is one of our most valued exchanges.

We have fallen on pestilential days.—Cholera in the Orient, Italy and South France; Trichina in Germany; Rinderpest in Russia, Holland and England, whereupon the Sheep Plague is added.—N. Y. Tribune.

Greely forgot "Jacobins in America;" a worse pest than Cholera, Rinderpest, Trichina, Sheep Plague, Nitro-glycerine and Ben Butler.

NOT CONFIRMED.—The Senate, on Monday last, refused to confirm the recent appointments made by the President in Pennsylvania. Several of the Senators announced that no man who was nominated to office on the ground of his advocacy of the President's policy should be confirmed.

For the Sentinel.

Epidemic Cholera.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—I have read, with interest, the communication in to-day's Sentinel, signed "Correspondent," upon the subject of Epidemic Cholera; and I like the writer's views and approve of them generally, particularly those advanced upon the question of food and nourishment. Fearing, however, that your "Correspondent," from the conclusion of his article, may not favor the reading public with another communication on this subject, I shall endeavor to further ventilate it; but with what success, let others determine.

To assert that this or that thing, or any particular article of food, is wholesome, without a knowledge of the condition of the person and his daily habits for whom it is intended, reminds one of a sailor pronouncing the wind fair, without knowing to what port the vessel is bound. Certainly, the very best opinion, as regards the wholesomeness of an aliment, in the case of any particular individual, is comprised in the answer of the facetious Dr. Mandeville, who, when asked by the ladies of the court, whether this or that article of diet were wholesome, asked whether they liked it, and it agreed with them? If so, it was wholesome.

So, also, your "Correspondent's" remarks upon the subjects of sewers and drains, the removal of all filth from the town, of every description whatsoever, and the free and judicious use of lime, as a health-preserving agent, in all tenements, and on all grounds requiring to be purified, are too important to be either forgotten by the individuals, or overlooked by the public authorities of a city. The suggestion, too, that it might be well for the corporate authorities of this city to lay in an abundant supply of lime for the use of the citizens,—selling it to those who are able to pay, and giving it to those who are, beyond all question, not able to buy it; but unconditionally requiring of all to use it freely and wisely—is in every way worthy of consideration.

But I must not tresspass on the proper duties of the health Commissioners, lately appointed by the City authorities. I hope that the public will soon be favored with their report in relation to the proper sanitary measures that should be adopted and enforced in this city, in view of the approach and prevalence of epidemic cholera. Coming, as it will, from those who occupy a higher, and therefore, of course, a better standpoint, and who enjoy the advantages of more enlightened circumstances, it should have, as it doubtless will have, an educational influence. I do not mean by this, it should teach the peoples the three R's, reading, riting and rithmetic, toasted by a New York Alderman, although it is thought just now that these attainments will largely increase the present usefulness and market value of their possessor. The education to which I refer, as an all-important influence in proper sanitary measures and progress, is that which would consist in exhibiting to all classes of society the practical evidences of the attainability and of the advantages of a better, as well as higher, civilization; an educational influence which would teach the lowest classes, by the enforcement of sanitary laws and examples, as well as by precepts, to know cleanliness from dirt, decency from grossness, human propriety from brutish self-abandonment; an educational influence which will teach them to feel the comfort as well as the profit of sanitary observances, and thus, at least, make them apply their instincts of self-preservation to the deliberate avoidance of disease. Thus, it will be seen, that a proper sanitary measure reaches, or, at least, is intended to reach, every person—the professional man and the merchant, the artizan and the laborer, the rich and the poor, and is unlike much of the legislation and reform of the present day. It aims at the establishment of no abstract principle, with no practical, definite bearing or application; and, therefore, rests upon no visionary theory, conceived in the closet or study of some impracticable enthusiast or legislator, to be pretendedly carried out and executed by smart, designing knaves, who ride the hobby with their own purposes and for their own benefit.—It does not seek to overturn nor upturn any social, political or religious sentiment, or institution; nor to abrogate any constitutional or statute law. It therefore interferes with no man's proper rights, pecuniary, social, political or relio to remove and reform any sanitary evils that may exist either on his own premises or in his own person or habits, and those of his family and neighborhood; and any such effort, wisely directed, will increase the amount of his own individual enjoyment, while it adds to the aggregate enjoyment of the whole City,—and thus may be accomplished the high and praiseworthy objects, for which this sanitary movement was undertaken and begun.

In view of the fact that no cases had occurred on board the England since her departure from Halifax, where she was thoroughly disinfected and cleansed, and none on the Virginia since her arrival here and the transfer of her passengers to the Falcon, she too having been disinfected, Dr. Swinburne asks when the vessels may be permitted to discharge their cargo. It is evident that he considers it safe to permit the discharge at once, and after investigation the Commissioners of Health may concur in this opinion.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser, 27th.

REPORT FROM THE RECONSTRUCTION COMMITTEE—THE TERMS UPON WHICH THE SOUTHERN STATES ARE TO BE ADMITTED—ANOTHER AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION—WHO ARE TO BE FOREVER DISFRANCHISED, &c.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—The Joint Committee on Reconstruction, after a session of some four hours to-day, at which all the members of the Committee were present, agreed to report on Monday next the following propositions:

A joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Be it Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, two-thirds of both Houses concurring, that the following article be proposed to the Legislatures of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which, when ratified by three-fourths of said Legislatures, shall be valid as part of the Constitution, namely:

ARTICLE—

Section 1. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States, nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included in this Union according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State, including Indians not taxed; but whenever in any State the elective franchise shall be denied to any portion of its male citizens not less than 21 years of age, or in any way abridged, except for participation in rebellion or other crimes, the basis of representation in said States shall be reduced in the proportion to which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens not less than 21 years of age.

Sec. 3. Until the 4th day of July, 1870, all persons who voluntarily adhered to the late insurrection, giving it aid and comfort, shall be excluded from the right to vote for members of Congress, and for electors for President and Vice President of the United States.

Sec. 4. Neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation already incurred, or which may hereafter be incurred, in aid of insurrection or of war against the United States, or any claim for compensation for loss of involuntary service or labor.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

A Bill to provide for the restoration of the States lately in insurrection to their full political rights.

WHEREAS, It is expedient that the States lately in insurrection should, at the earliest day consistent with the future peace and safety of the Union, be restored to full participation in all political rights, and whereas, the Congress did, by joint resolution, propose for ratification to the Legislature of the several States as an amendment to the Constitution of the United States an article in the following words, to wit: (The Constitutional article is here inserted.) Now, therefore,

Be it enacted, etc., That whenever the above recited amendment shall have become part of the Constitution, and any State lately in insurrection shall have ratified the same and shall have modified its Constitution and laws in conformity therewith, the Senators and Representatives from such State, if found duly elected and qualified, may, having taken the required oaths of office, be admitted into Congress as such.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That when any State lately in insurrection shall have ratified the foregoing proposed amendment to the Constitution, any part of the direct tax under the act of August 5th., 1861, which may remain due and unpaid in such State, may be assumed and paid by such State, and the payment thereof, on proper assurances from such State, to be given to the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, may be postponed for a period not exceeding ten years from and after the passage of this act.

A bill declaring certain persons ineligible to office under the government of the United States.

gious, and it, therefore, also takes things as they are; looks upon man as it finds him; allows him to enjoy the institutions with which he is favoured; ministers to his comforts in every way, and gives him the means of living longer, and of enjoying more while he does live. There is in this no transcendentalism or other ism or ology, to which any reasonable man can object; although it far transcends, in its simplicity, in its practical utility, and in its substantial, every day, universal benefits, some of the other reforms of the day.

Then let no one, whether he be a member of the corporation council, or a mere citizen of the town, offer any obstruction to the immediate adoption and enforcement of such measures, for every man, in every station of life in the City, has a direct interest in their success. More than that, every person should do all in his power, and every one can do something, to establish, promote and maintain them; endeavoring

Be it enacted, &c., That no person shall be eligible to any office under the government of the United States who is included in any of the following classes, namely: First. The President and Vice President of the Confederate States of America, so-called, and the Heads of Departments thereof. Second. Those who in other countries acted as agents of the Confederate States of America, so-called. Third. Heads of Departments of the United States, officers of the army and navy of the United States, and all persons educated at the Military or Naval Academy of the United States, Judges of the Courts of the United States, and members of either House of the 36th Congress of the United States, who gave aid or comfort to the late rebellion. Fourth. Those who acted as officers of the Confederate States of America, so-called, above the grade of Colonel in the army or Master in the navy, and any one who, as Governor of either of the so-called Confederate States, gave aid or comfort to the late rebellion. Fifth.—Those who have treated officers, or soldiers, or sailors of the army or navy of the United States, captured during the late war, otherwise than lawfully as prisoners of war.

The Committee removed the injunction of secrecy so far as the above propositions are concerned, and permitted copies to be furnished to the Press. It is understood that the vote upon them was twelve against three. As it is known that Senator Johnson and Representatives Grider and Rogers only voted in the negative, the affirmative must be Senators Fessenden, Grimes, Harris, Howard and Williams, and Representatives Stevens, Washburne, of Illinois, Morrill, Bingham, Conkling, Boutwell and Blow.

REWARDED.—We see it stated that Lieutenant Andrew Campbell, of the Thirteenth Tennessee Volunteers, who killed General John H. Morgan, after he had surrendered, has received an appointment, upon the recommendation of Judge Patterson, Senator elect from Tennessee. Louisville Courier.

Forney Catching It.

The National Intelligencer has caught the "dead duck" handsomely.

The Intelligencer republished Forney's eulogy on Mr. Davis, written in the first year of the war. Forney endeavored to break the force of the blow, by declaring, in his "Occasional" letter to the Press, that his praise of Davis was designed to recall him from the error of his way before the rebellion had taken too formidable proportions. He says, speaking of the Intelligencer:

"Let me ask that faithful mirror of impenitent treason whether the kind words I spoke of Jefferson Davis in 1862 (rightly 1861) were not the evidence of an honest desire to forgive and recall him before he had

"Stept in so far that should he wade no more, Returning were as tedious as go o'er."

The Intelligencer blows Forney out of the water by simply calling his attention to the fact, that the eulogy of Mr. Davis in the Chronicle was an obituary notice, the rumor being prevalent in Washington, and generally believed, that Mr. Davis was dead! And the Intelligencer pertinently asks whether Forney expected to "recall" him from the tomb.—Petersburg Index.

CONFLICT BETWEEN THE CIVIL AND MILITARY AUTHORITIES IN KENTUCKY.—In Louisville, on the 26th of April, Judge Ballard, of the United States District Court, issued an order for the arrest of General J. C. Davis, for interfering with the course of public justice, in disobeying the writ of habeas corpus in the case of Henderson, charged with conspiring to defraud the Government. Marshal Merriweather was resisted by Davis in attempting to enforce the order. The order against Davis is returnable in May.

Attachments were also made against Major-Generals George H. Thomas, R. W. Johnson and General W. D. Whipple, Provost Marshal of Tennessee, returnable at the next regular term.

Mr. Henderson was taken to Nashville last night, by order of General Davis, notwithstanding the writ issued by Judge Ballard for prosecution before the United States Court.

LITERARY RULERS—Omer Pasha is said to be writing a life of Alexander the Great: the crown prince of Russia is writing a history of the electoral princess of Brandenburg; the ex-king of Greece (Otho, of Bavaria,) is translating the "Iliad of Homer;" Louis, ex-king of Bavaria, is at Nince, giving the last touch to a new volume of poems; King John, of Saxony, has just published the third and last volume of "Dante's Divina Commedia," translated by himself into German; and in Macmillan's Magazine for February there is a fragment entitled "Bolsover Castle." by prince Frederick, of Schleswig Holstein. Since the "Life of Cæsar" set the fashion, oyal authors are wonderfully plenty.

The President has an iron constitution, works from 8 A. M. to 11 and 12 P. M. often, receiving delegations frequently from 10 in the morning to 11 at night, excepting two days in the week, between the hours of 12 and 2 or three o'clock, Tuesdays and Fridays, which he devotes to the regular meetings of the Cabinet.—On pleasant afternoons he sometimes steals away one hour to ride abroad. He is not even free on Sundays, for then Senators and Representatives call as usual—while business men, office seekers, cotton brokers and real friends, disregarding the sacredness of the seventh day, seek interviews and many obtain them. They did it throughout Lincoln's administration, and have done the same during Mr. Johnson's term thus far. There is no peace for the President, but he bears himself with great dignity, determination and courage through all his toils and trials.

THE SENTINEL.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

[Reported Expressly for the Sentinel.]

Trial of Major Jno. H. Gee.

SYNOPSIS OF TESTIMONY.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DAY.—(CONCLUDED.)

MONDAY, April 30, 1866.

James A. McConnaughey, sworn: Lives in Salisbury, N. C., merchant. Was agent on W. N. C. R. R., at time prisoners of war were at Salisbury. Had an office in the depot. The prisoners came on the N. C. R. R. We had a government depot. Some of them were very ragged, and looked sick. I saw some who went to the prison, supported by two men. Have seen the details around the railroad and depot buying from the women, about there, pies, chickens and eggs. Guards were with them. The guards traded. I never saw the prisoners prevented from buying. I boarded near the prison, and when I went to dinner I used to see them carrying water in barrels, suspended on poles.

Provisions were scarce and hard to get—difficult to buy a barrel of flour, I have heard the citizens complain of the high prices the sutlers paid.

The railroad was in very bad condition. We had five engines and two of them at the shop for repairs. The cars were in bad order—they often ran with a flat wheel, that is, one that has a soft place and wears out; in turning over it shakes the train. The only remedy is to put on a new wheel. It was very difficult to get supplies. We had to take up the turn-outs to repair the road.

We had no regular train except the mail train; it ran up in the morning and down in the evening. Carried nearly all the freight on it. Had one wood train. Mr. Snider was conductor on it. It sometimes made three trips a day and sometimes only one. There was a good engine on that train. It generally did as much as it could. Sometimes we had a gravel train. Couldn't have carried any more wood without stopping the mail train. Sometimes lumber was carried by the gravel train, and sometimes by the mail train. When an engine went into the shop, it stayed there three or four months. When a tire was worn off, it was kept there three months.

Major Myers frequently wanted a car sent to 3d Creek. When we had them, we sent. Many of the cars were broken down and old. The road was reported to be in a very bad condition. Col. Kirk made a raid on our road at Camp Vance, near Morganton. It was either before or after the prisoners of war were at Salisbury.—One train was burnt, and an engine was damaged so that it could'nt be used for a long time. It was a month or so before Stoneman came, that we used the engine.

Court adjourned.

THIRTY-EIGHTH DAY.

TUESDAY, May 1st, 1866.

McConnaughey's examination concluded: The mail-train carried passengers and freight, and mostly Maj. Myers' supplies. We took up one end of the turn-outs to get the iron to repair the road. The train then had to run in and out at the same end.

There was a lot of salt beef shipped to Richmond. It was transferred from the W. N. C. R. R. to the N. C. R. R. It was at the depot. It was shipped by Major Todd to Major Claiborn at Richmond. Major Myers came with an order to take 10,000 pounds of it. I refused to let him have it. He went off and came back with a guard and took it. I had no right to give it to him unless by force. Myers said he wanted it to feed the prisoners. I recollect that he seized a small lot of flour belonging to Mr. Boyden.

Major Myers came to the depot nearly every day to see if any flour was being shipped by speculators, to impress it. In cases of doubt it was shipped till he could find out about it. The trains came very irregularly, often very late at night. Major Myers frequently waited at my office till the train came in. I have known the waggon to take the grain directly from the cars to the mill.

The reasons Maj. Myers gave for seizing provisions was that he was obliged to have them for the prisoners. I remember his seizing 100 barrels of corn and sending it to mill. It came from Charlotte, but was in my depot. He made shipments to Richmond before the prisoners arrived, (a short time before,) sometimes as much as 100,000 lbs.

The running of the wood-train prevented the running of a gravel train. A rock fell on the road and filled up the cut six miles from Salisbury, and we had to stop the road till we ran the track around this place. There was a single track on the road. The supplies found by Stoneman were brought from Raleigh and Greensboro, after the prisoners of war left, to get them out of the way of Sherman's army.

A meeting in the town to get supplies for Lee's army was followed by considerable shipments of provisions.

Cross examined.—We had about thirty cars in all, used three for the mail train. I can swear that no more wood could have been brought to the prison without stopping the mail train. We had'nt engines enough. Generally, two out of five were disabled while the prisoners were there. We used two engines on the mail train.

The supplies brought to avoid Sherman's army were about two weeks in coming. I think none of them were there before the prisoners left. I passed the Commissary's three times a day and sometimes stepped in.

I was not in the army. Went to the prison at the time of the outbreak; a gun was handed me. I did not use it.

I don't know that any shipments were made by Major Myers while the prisoners were there.

[To-day's evidence concluded to-morrow.]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—E. Wilkes, Superintendent, gives list of coupons, the property of Geo. W. Mordecai, Esq., stolen recently from the Hon. Thomas Ruffin. All persons are forewarned from receiving them.

Oats, Hay, Lumber, &c. See advertisements of J. J. Litchford.

J. H. Lassiter, Treasurer, invites proposals for building a large Tobacco Factory in the town of Henderson.

THE CITY INDEX.—It will be seen, by reference to the Prospectus which we publish in another column, that James H. Moore, Esq. proposes to commence the publication of a cheap Daily, bearing the above title, in this City. Mr. M. possesses all the necessary qualifications for getting up a sprightly paper, and we wish him much success in his enterprize.

RALEIGH & GASTON R. R.—We have just returned from a brief trip, during which we passed over this entire Road. We found the Road in good order, and as usual supplied with accommodating and polite conductors and reliable and prudent engineers. This has always been one of the best managed Roads of the South. Many of its employees and officers have been long connected with it, and the excellent rule, not to employ an intemperate man on the Road, is still adhered to, which may account for its freedom from casualties.

SUFFOLK.—After an absence of ten years, we passed through this town, on the Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad, last week. It was formerly noted for its brisk trade and the hospitality and refinement of its citizens. During the war, its citizens, and those of the surrounding country, suffered severely at the hands of the Federal troops. Many of its kind, hospitable people still remain, but its business has mostly disappeared, and its people are discouraged, yet calmly waiting for a better day. The forest around has been cut down for miles and many of the houses bear the marks of violence.

WELDON HOTEL.—To our surprise and gratification, we found really an excellent Hotel, under the management of the Messrs. Farrall, at Weldon, on our late trip. The table is well supplied with an excellent variety of well cooked food and it was served on a clean table and furniture, by very attentive servants. We paid our dollar cheerfully, for two good meals, each, and a good cup of coffee, instead of a glass of firewater.

We know no place where a good Hotel can do better, than at Weldon, and we are glad that the proprietors are fitting up the House and have made a good beginning in getting up a first class Hotel.

RICHMOND EXAMINER.—Capt. E. A. Semple, business Editor of the Examiner, is in this city, at the Yarborough House. He visits Raleigh for the purpose of promoting the interests and extending the circulation of our able Virginia cotemporary, and, to that end, will doubtless call upon most of our citizens.

GROSS OUTRAGE IN LENOIR.—We learn, from the Goldsboro News, that Wm. R. Loftin, six miles from Kinston, was attacked on the night of the 28th ult., by twelve or fifteen mounted men of both colors; purpose supposed to be horse-stealing. Loftin was shot in the arm, and a negro living with him was shot in the face. Several of the robbers were wounded and driven off, leaving a horse and coat, which may cause the capturing of some of the party.

Dr. Bartleson's house and out-houses were also burned, and he was shot several times. It is supposed that the same party was concerned in both outrages.

UNION SUPERIOR COURT.—The Spring term of this Court was held last week,—Judge Mitchell presiding. The Charlotte Democrat says:

"This being the first regular term held in that county for some time past, there was a great deal of business before the Court—mostly fighting and stealing scrapes, some of long standing.

A white man named Michael Nash was tried for committing rape on a girl, his own cousin. The crime was committed 9 or 10 years ago, when the girl was only 12 years old, but the prisoner escaped and did not return to the State until recently. He was found guilty. J. H. Wilson, Esq. defended the prisoner, and the Solicitor and E. A. Thompson, Esq., prosecuted him. He was sentenced to be hanged on the 1st of June.

The Solicitor, Mr. Caldwell, is a vigorous prosecuting officer, and discharges his duties firmly and impartially, without displaying a tyrannical, overbearing disposition."

TOUCHING INCIDENT.—The Wilmington Journal, of the 28th., has the following:

"An incident occurred at the Courthouse yesterday, which, in itself, is a beautiful picture of the devotion of children, and which manifested in an extraordinary degree the interest which children seldom fail to excite in the minds of persons of maturer years. It appears that a young man, who is employed as teacher of a free school in the southern district of the city, had been tried for an assault and battery, and been sentenced to one month imprisonment in the County Jail.

After the trial had taken place, about sixty children, girls and boys, scholars of this person, came to the Courthouse and desired an interview with the Judge. The interview after a while was granted. On the appearance of the Judge a young boy, one of the party, approached His Honor, and addressed him in a polite, deferential and manly manner, and explained to him, that himself and companions had sought this audience in order to entreat His Honor to remit the punishment visited upon their teacher, that they were all poor children who actually needed the services of him in whose behalf they had come. The Judge was affected by this evidence of devotion, and told the children that he would consider the case and let them know the result of his consideration.

The consequence was that the punishment was remitted, the prisoner released (after being visited with a fine and made to pay the costs,) and returned to the children who had exerted themselves so well in his behalf.

The lenient course which Judge Buxton pursued, but entitles him to double respect, and shows plainly that both justice and mercy may be meted out by the same hand, with equal credit."

GEN. RUFUS BARRINGER has removed from Concord, his old home, to Charlotte, and formed a law partnership with the Hon. James W. Osborne. A law firm comprising in greater degree the essential qualities of patient industry, thorough ability, and unswerving integrity, would be hard to find anywhere. But these gentlemen have a record as widely known as their names, and need no commendation from friends to ensure their success. It is the pleasure of the latter, however, to pay the tribute of good words upon fitting occasion.—Salisbury Banner.

EXTRAVAGANCE IN NEW YORK.—The coming spring is developing in the Central park of New York more showy equipages than ever. The enormous accumulations of wealth by the war are displayed in expenditures the like of which is scarcely seen in any city of the world. Ladies are often seen here in social life with from $50,000 to $100,000 on their persons in laces, or diamonds, or jewels of one kind or another.—This wealth has not all come from "shoddy," petroleum, and the gold mines of Colorado. Montana centers her profits there. But the great profit is in the national banks, some of which yield from 20 to 70 per cent.

Where the scurviest thief in New-York to appear at any one of the religious meetings now going on in some of the churches in this city, and there declare his repentance, and avow his conversion to a better life and his desire to unite in the fellowship of those who profess to pursue it; and were his acts to bear out his words, he would be received, welcomed, rejoiced over, baptized, and admitted.

The next day, after applying to erring men this test in morals and religion, many of these same persons would read the Sermon on the Mount at family prayers, and then go and declare their approbation of a Congress which treats worse than the scurviest thieves our Southern fellow-citizens, who have erred in a matter of political government, who declare it, who desire to renew their old political fellowship and their allegiance to the Union and its laws.

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the [so called] remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disinfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggiel's Bilious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 43 Fulton Street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box. Sold by all Druggists in Raleigh.

WHO WANTS A PIANO?

SEVERAL Patrons of the Concord Female College have requested my aid in securing good for their use. This has induced me to make arrangements with some of the best manufacturers, which enable me to furnish instruments of the first class at reduced prices. I can save each purchaser from $40 to $100. Price lists of the manufacturers will be sent to those who desire them, to aid them in making selections.

When selections shall have been made the money can be sent to me, at my expense, by the Southern Express, and a Piano will be shipped to the Depot the purchaser may designate. Each Piano sold will be fully warranted. Address me at Statesville, N. C.

CLEANSE THE BLOOD.

With corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood, you are sick all over. It may burst out in Pimples, or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and expelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood, such as Scrofula, or Kings' Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, also Syphilis or Venereal Diseases, Liver Complaints, and Heart Diseases. Try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract o Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative which we know how to produce, and we have reason to believe, it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

Ayers Cherry Pectoral is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease, that it is useless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by Williams & Haywood, P. F. Pescud, Raleigh, N. C., and Dealers generally.

LIFE INSURANCE NOTICE!

THE old and well established

Ætna Company, of Hartford,

Offers superior inducements to all who wish to provide for family or friends.

All losses are promptly paid. No case of litigation has ever occurred with this Company. With assetts of $2,300,000, it offers to receive one half of the premium in a note and half in cash, and, after the second year, to credit each customer with the dividends of the Company, which are now 50 per cent. With a small outlay, $5000, or $10,000, or $20,000, may be secured to the family after their earthly providers are taken away. What father or husband would not feel thankful on his dying couch, that he had availed himself of every proper means to place those nearest and dearest to him, above the pinchings of want, and a life of dependence upon friends or charity? 8819 policies have been issued from the office ending Jan. 15, 1866. The total income for the year 1865 was $1,683,339 57; total disbursements $527,365 24, leaving a balance to surplus fund of $1,155,244 33.

In Raleigh a large number have liberally responded and promptly acted in this matter; yet many delay, and may wait until it is too late. A man in this city lately left his place of business for his evening meal, well and healthy, but never reached that home except as he was carried there to die. Had that man taken the advice of the Agent, he might have left $5000 to minister to the necessities of a sorrowing family. Delays are dangerous, procrastination destructive. But one says, "If I only had confidence in the Company that it would pay, I would insure." Well, it never has failed to pay, and to-day is more responsible than ever before. It is patronized by some of the most sagacious minds in the land—men competent to detect and expose any deception if it existed.
